HCC celebrates $43.5M renovated Campus Ctr.

By Michael Ballway

Even for a place that talks about building bright futures daily, Holyoke Community College celebrated a large, shining example of one last Friday.

The college officially dedicated the $43.5 million renovation of its Campus Center on Feb. 28, and the new facade — floor-to-ceiling windows replacing a concrete-dominated architecture that drew comparisons to a "pit," a "cave" or a "dungeon" — got rave reviews.

"The whole building feels light, open and spacious, kind of like an Apple Store," said Maiv Lee-Ruiz of Holyoke, who represented the student body at the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

She shared her first impressions of the pre-renovation building, when she first began taking classes at HCC in 2016: "I remember following the student [tour] leader into the Campus Center, thinking 'This place is dark.' ... The halls were gloomy and felt like a cave."

"It also speaks to the way one of our objectives is to take old space and make it new," he added. "This is one of the best examples I have seen about it anywhere in the commonwealth. I give kudos to all the people on the boards and design teams to pulling off a beautiful transformation and one that you should be enormously proud of."

The Campus Center had been built in 1978 and closed for renovations in the spring of 2017, with student services moving to temporary quarters in converted classrooms in the college's academic buildings. It reopened in time for the fall

Democratic voters break for Bernie

Biden runs 2nd in city, 1st in state primary results

By Michael Ballway

While most Massachusetts cities backed Joseph Biden in this week's Democratic presidential primary election, Holyoke was firmly in Bernie Sanders' camp.

The Vermont senator won 2,359 votes on Holyoke Democratic ballots, or nearly 39 percent. The former vice president managed 1,653 votes in the city, or 27 percent. Statewide, the figures were reversed, with the Associated Press pegging Biden at 33.6 percent

Author shares real story of St. Patrick

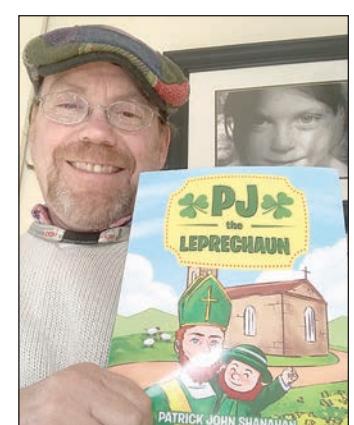

By Shelby Macri
smacri@turley.com

Born and raised in Holyoke, Patrick John Shanahan has missed only one St. Patrick's Day Parade in his 51 years.

But talking to attendees at the Holyoke event and other Irish celebrations, he came to realize that while everyone knows St. Patrick's Day, few people know the story of St. Patrick himself — the namesake of the March 17 holiday. So he wrote a book.

Shanahan has attended parades in Florida, Cape Cod, Boston, and, of course, in Holyoke, and talked with fellow attendees about the history behind the patron saint of Ireland. Shanahan recalls going to a local Barnes & Noble to look for stories about St. Patrick and finding none.

"There weren't many books on St. Patrick and the story of his sainthood," Shanahan said. "That's when I had the idea to share the story of his journey to sainthood and to educate people on the divine reason behind the day of March 17."

Once Shanahan had the idea, he knew this would be his second book and he

There will also be exhibits around campus all month celebrating inspirational women. For more information, please visit hcc.edu/whm.

Former swim star in 'Spenser' movie

Bruce Mitchell, a Holyoke Athletic Hall of Fame honoree for swimming and springboard diving, has a role in Mark Wahlberg's new movie "Spenser Confidential," due to be released on Netflix this Friday, March 6.

Though he has no training in law enforcement, Mitchell portrays a Boston Police captain in the film. He recalls that the scene in which he appears was shot in Boston over a 14-hour day, beginning at 6:30 a.m.

"It amazes me that for every 12 seconds of film that is watched by the audience, it takes a full 14 hours to shoot that scene," Mitchell said. "This particular day was the funeral scene, and unfortunately it was so cold, at 24 degrees, that the entire cast and crew froze while filming."

Mitchell began working in film in 1975 with "The Reincarnation of Peter Proud," filmed at Otis Reservoir, which has since become a cult classic. Mitchell worked as the swimming stunt double for lead actor Michael Sarrazin, performing all the swimming scenes at the start of the movie.

More opportunities followed. Mitchell has been cast several times as a lawyer, an art critic, a pedestrian, and movie star stand-in for various movies that include "The Judge" with Robert Downey Jr. and Robert Duvall, "Stronger" with Jake Gyllenhaal, "American Hustle" with Christian Bale, "Chappaquiddick" with Jason Clarke, "The Code," and more.

Mitchell graduated from Holyoke High School in 1970. At Springfield College, he was the only athlete in the history of the NCAA to earn All-American honors in 3-meter springboard diving and the 400-meter free-style relay, both back-to-back events, achieved on the same day at the 1973 NCAA Championships in Detroit.

Mitchell continues to study at various acting studios throughout the area, and is a member of the Screen Actors Guild.

Public hearing next week on CPA plans

The Holyoke Community Preservation Committee will hold a hearing next Wednesday for the public to learn about and comment on projects seeking funds.

The hearing is at 6 p.m. this Wednesday, March 11, at the Senior Center, 291 Pine St., Holyoke. Funds for Community Preservation Act grants come from a surcharge on local property taxes, as well as matching grants from the state. CPA funds can only be spent on historical preservation, open space land conservation, public recreation, or affordable housing. This year's funding applicants represent all categories.

Jazz festival to feature SNL saxophonist

Saxophonist Ron Black, a 15-year veteran of NBC's "Saturday Night Live" Band, will be the guest artist at the 23rd annual Holyoke Community College Jazz Festival next weekend.

The two-day festival opens Friday, March 13, with an 8 p.m. concert that will feature Blake playing with the Amherst Jazz Orchestra under the direction of David Sporn on the stage of the Leslie Phillips Theater in the HCC Fine & Performing Arts building, on the main campus at 303 Homestead Ave., Holyoke.

Apart from performing on SNL, Blake is also a professor of saxophone and jazz studies at the Juilliard School of Music. He has performed and recorded with the Grammy-winning Christian McBride Big Band, Roy Hargrove, Art Farmer, Spirit Music Jamia, Red, Hot + Riot, and the Grammy-nominated Latin pop group Yerba Buena. Originally from the Virgin Islands, the New York City resident is also a band leader with three albums and some 50-plus recordings as a side man to his credit.

"Ron is one of the world's leading saxophonists, a great instructor, and a versatile performer," said Robert Ferrier, festival organizer, HCC music professor and jazz guitarist. "He plays baritone sax on 'Saturday Night Live,' but he'll be playing tenor sax with us. It's going to be a lot of fun."

The HCC festival will continue on Saturday, March 14, with big band and jazz combo performances by high school and HCC jazz students from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the Leslie Phillips Theater. Jazz clinics, workshops and jam sessions will be held throughout the day in the HCC Recital Hall (FPA Building, Room 137). Blake will conduct two music clinics, one at 11 a.m. and another at 1 p.m.

A concluding concert will be held in the theater 4-5 p.m. on Saturday, with Blake performing with a select combo of students representing each of the participating high schools, HCC students and festival faculty.

Tickets for the Friday night concert are $15, or $10 for seniors and non-HCC students, and $7 for HCC students, staff and faculty with a valid ID.

All Saturday events are free and

Elias running for Green vice president nomination

Dario Hunter, one of the leading candidates for the Green Party nomination for president, has named Darlene Elias of Holyoke as his running mate.

Elias, a social worker and probation officer, is a former co-chair of the national Green Party and an activist for women's rights, the Latino community and housing rights. She ran for Holyoke City Council in 2015 and 2017. Her activism with the Green Party began with a successful effort to prevent the demolition of the Lyman Terrace low-income housing complex, where she grew up.

In announcing his pick at a rally in Boston before this week's Massachusetts primary election, Hunter said Elias brought qualities and accomplishments to the ticket that would greatly enhance the Green Party's outreach and activism on a number of issues, from women's rights to indigenous sovereignty to ending colonialism. According to Elias, "I'm running because the voice of the people is absent from our current political system. We need to do what it takes to get real system change."

Hunter said he is announcing a running mate now because "the challenges we face as a party to ballot access mean that we need to be ready earlier than the Democrats and Republicans. And we've got a solid team, a solid ticket to address the issues that Americans face everyday — one that resembles and speaks to the American experience."

Hunter is black, openly gay, the son of an Iranian immigrant and Jewish. Elias, of Puerto Rican and Hawaiian descent, has previously spoken before a United Nations special committee on Puerto Rico to call for its independence.

Hunter, a former school board member from Youngstown, Ohio, took 81 percent of the vote in the Green Party's Minnesota caucus last month. In the past week, he has finished second in a handful of primaries to Green Party cofounder Howie Hawkins.

According to their press release, the Hunter-Elias campaign advocates for a Green New Deal that will transition the country to 100 percent renewable energy, replacing the war budget with a Department of Peace and a diplomatic realignment called the Green Path Forward to negotiate global carbon reduction benchmarks and tackle other crises such as plastic pollution. They support single-payer universal healthcare and oppose privatization in school districts. Hunter and Elias are proposing a People of Color Bill of Rights, described as a "New Deal" for racial minorities, ending unequal treatment in justice, banking and employment, among other forums. Chicopee marshal grew up in Elmwood

dzbierski@turley.com

Two native Holyokers will serve as marshals at this year's Holyoke St. Patrick's Day Parade — the Holyoke grand marshal, John J. Driscoll, as well as the leader of the Chicopee contingent, Jim Kelly.

Kelly, now a Chicopee resident and the president and CEO of Polish National Credit Union, is eager to come home to participate in what he considers the opportunity of a lifetime on March 22.

"I grew up right where the parade begins in the Elmwood section of Holyoke; I remember the neighborhood kids and all the fun we had around St. Patrick's Day. In fact, I'll tell you, I met my wife there 24 years ago on St. Patrick's Day weekend," said Kelly.

Before joining Polish National, Kelly was employed by the U.S. Department of the Treasury as a regulator based in New York City. After witnessing the events of 9/11, he elected to return home to Western Massachusetts.

Kelly credits his mere existence to the ambition of his great-grandparents, who emigrated from Roscommon, Ireland, to New England in pursuit of the American Dream.

Kelly has long aspired to emulate the work ethic of his ancestors and live up to the example set by his mentors and former educators, the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Today, he dedicates countless hours to community outreach. Kelly explained the importance of interacting with residents, something he anticipates doing in bulk on March 22.

"I really believe face-to-face contact is still the best way to do business despite all of the technology that's out there," he said. "I'm probably the only CEO you know in financial services that goes door to door delivering 150 pints of blueberries or bundles of asparagus or bags of corn that were picked the same morning."

The positive impact that Kelly has made on Chicopee caught the eye of that city's parade committee. His dedication to helping others earned him the title of parade marshal, one so meaningful that Kelly expressed optimism it will appear one day in his obituary.

Holyoke native Jim Kelly stands with Chicopee Parade Committee President Brenda Pauze Guiel after being introduced last weekend as Chicopee's parade marshal in the Holyoke St. Patrick's Day Parade.

"I was speechless and was in shock when the president of the parade committee came into my office," said Kelly. "I thought, 'Maybe someday, if I'm in the industry for another 15 or 20 years or retire, maybe that could happen.' I'm living a dream; this is an experience that I'll never forget."

Kelly emphasized his belief that the parade is not meant "only for Irish people." The day serves as a platform for all attendees to connect with old friends and form new bonds.

"That's the thing about parades, they bring the community together, and it's been a huge part of my life from a very early age. This is where friendships are made and rekindled. I guarantee you that if you attend the parade, you'll see people you haven't seen in a while," said Kelly, who added, "If you're single, go to the parade. I met the love of my life, and you can too."

The Holyoke St. Patrick's Day Parade was first held in 1952 and has since established itself as a regional tradition. This year marks the 69th edition of the parade, which is scheduled to begin at 11:30 a.m. Sunday, March 22. For more information, visit holyokestpatricksparade.com.

began working. It took two years to complete "P.J. the Leprechaun," including writing, illustrating and publishing.

"I do already have a children's book, it's called 'Bird Song,' and a student of mine from Suffield Academy did the illustration," Shanahan said.

That student was Cheryl Kuo, and the book was published in 2012.

The company behind Shanahan's new book, Christian Faith Publishing, has the book available on Amazon.com and in Barnes & Noble. Shanahan spoke about currently trying to get the book included in the Holyoke Library, and he has contacted the St. Patrick's Committee to try to involve the book in the parade somehow. Shanahan hopes to help educate people on this widely celebrated day, to broaden awareness of the real history behind it.

"It was a dream of mine to have my poetry published as a children's book. That dream came true with 'Bird Song,'" Shanahan said. "It's another dream come true to be able to educate people on the patron saint of Ireland, being able to honor him in this way and bring knowledge to the community."

In his new book, Shanahan tells the life story of St. Patrick, a missionary bishop who traveled to Ireland to convert the natives to Christianity. Shanahan invents the character of P.J. the Leprechaun, who stows away on the journey with Patrick. In the story, P.J. is the voice of God who speaks to Patrick when he needs to hear God's message. The leprechaun also acts as a type of narrator to the reader.

Though the book is accessible to children, it tells a story that many adults don't know, Shanahan said.

"This book is not just for kids, many adults can learn from it too," Shanahan said. "It's a family experience, and everyone can learn something and enjoy the story behind the day."

As a passionate Irish man from Holyoke, Shanahan is excited to share this story, this knowledge, with his community and beyond.

He will host a book reading at the Barnes & Noble bookstore on 7 Holyoke St., near the Holyoke Mall, at 1 p.m. Saturday, March 14.

Time to spring forward – for good

As we set our clocks ahead this weekend and curse the lost hour of sleep, let's ask again what purpose this disruptive ritual serves.

Three years ago, a state legislative commission was formed to investigate whether Massachusetts should stay on daylight saving time year-round — never again “falling back” and therefore, never having to “spring forward.” Other eastern states, such as Maine and Florida, also looked into it. Nothing has come of these proposals.

It wouldn't be an easy change. Throughout late fall and winter, Massachusetts would be an hour ahead of its neighboring states, adding a wrinkle to business and commuting ties. Even if all of New England made the switch, there's enough interaction between Western Massachusetts and New York — not to mention southwestern Connecticut and New York City — to ensure that breaking up Eastern Time, even for less than half the year, is not a step taken lightly.

And “daylight saving” does not, in fact, save any daylight. The sun will continue to shine the same number of hours and minutes — that is, not enough — in a standard time winter as it does in a DST winter.

What would change is what times we see that precious daylight. The sunlight would be shifted later in the day. More people would wake up in darkness, but more people would drive home, or play outdoors, in late-afternoon sunlight. There is also the cost of home heating to consider. Later daylight means temperatures would drop at a later hour, enabling thermostats to wait later in the evening before kicking in.

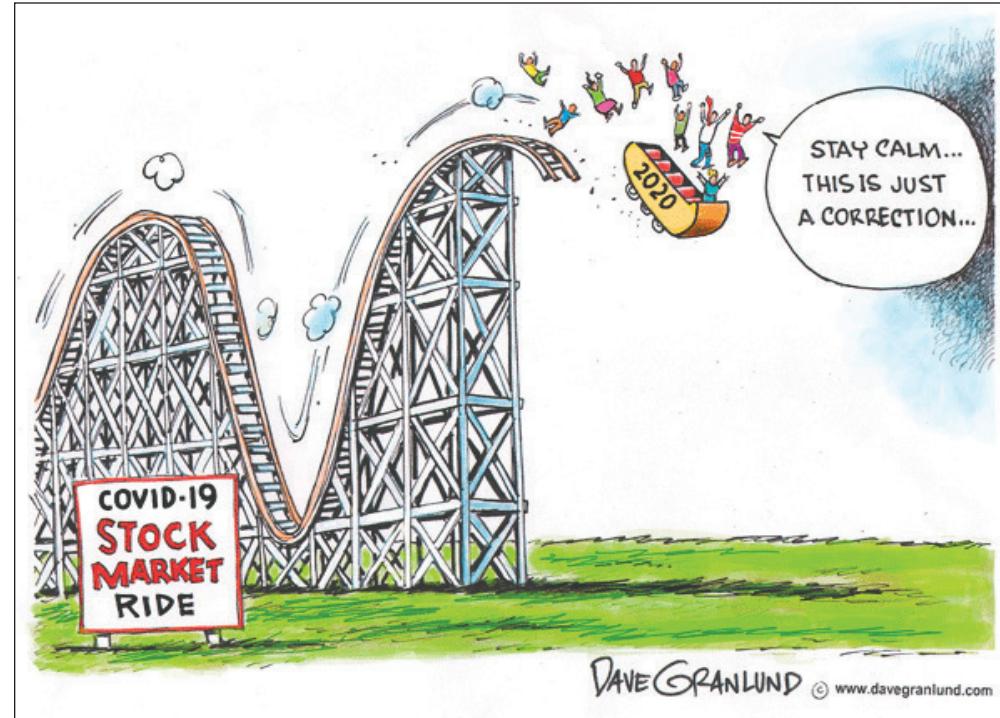

Daylight saving time has been controversial from the start. In 1907, an Englishman named William Willett published a pamphlet suggesting that clocks be moved forward by 80 minutes between April and October to take advantage of the longer summer sunlight.

Eventually, the idea caught on, at least in essence. Wartime Germany was first to adopt daylight saving time in 1916 to conserve electricity, and England followed suit a few weeks later, implementing “summer time.” A few years later, on March 31, 1918, the U.S. adopted the practice as a wartime measure, and much later, in 2007, we expanded DST, adding three weeks in the spring and one in the fall. We now spend less than half the year on “standard” time.

Willett's system was designed to maximize sunlight during working hours, including early mornings for farmers and war production workers. In 2020, our evening leisure time is just as important to us as our work time. Sacrificing the 5 o'clock hour to darkness makes less sense in today's society.

What should be controversial, in 2020, is why we persist in disrupting our bodies' natural

Schools have made progress under receiver

It is hard for me to understand the negativity focused on the school receivership in Holyoke.

The significant improvements are undeniable: graduation rates are way up, dropouts are way down, and students taking more challenging courses have increased almost fivefold. Further, more students are having experiences in the workforce and the number of students in vocational programming has more than doubled. Dean was slated to close and is now a thriving campus that is in high demand among rising high school students.

While there is incredible work that still needs to be done, we should celebrate, not ignore or diminish the accomplishments. Our teachers and staff are working hard and deserve our support and recognition.

Many of the above significant improvements were flat for two decades before receivership, and a generation of students were not afforded the educational experiences they deserved. No one wanted receivership, including myself, but it was necessary to see the progress described.

I have no doubt that if we continue on this path, Holyoke will emerge stronger than ever, and eventually authority over city schools will return to the city.

Lastly, Dr. Zrike has labored diligently for four-plus years in the best interest of our children and schools. As loyal Holyoke people, let us thank him for his sincere efforts and wish him well in his future endeavors.

I love Holyoke.

Summer at Stoneleigh-Burnham School Now Offers Day Camps in Dance and Animation

GREENFIELD, MA. Stoneleigh-Burnham School (SBS), an independent day and boarding school in Greenfield, Massachusetts, is pleased to announce day camps for their summer programs in Dance and Animation. These new options are in addition to the boarding summer experiences that Stoneleigh-Burnham has been offering for many years.

SBS's signature summer programs are hosted by expert faculty on their beautiful 100-acre campus in Greenfield. The programs are designed for girls ages 8-18 and emphasize the development of confidence, the acquisition of skills, and the discovery of new talents.

The week-long Animation Intensive Camp occurs July 5-10 and is designed for female artists in middle and high school who are interested in 2D and 3D animation. Campers have the opportunity to work with professional artists and animators as well as develop a short film of their own design.

There are two options for the week-long Dance Intensive: July 19-25 and July 26-August 1. Designed for intermediate and advanced dancers in middle and high school, this course provides girls with the opportunity to train with professional instructors and study ballet, jazz, yoga, hip hop, and more.

Also being offered this summer is the premier Bonnie Castle Riding Camp which has been instructing girls ages 8-16 in Hunters, Jumpers, Equitation, Dressage, Combined Training, and Equine Studies for over 30 years. There are two options for this all levels, boarding-only program: July 5-18 and July 19-August 1.

According to Director of Admissions Kristen Mariotti, "We are very excited to offer these summer day camp programs as part of our initiative to make a Stoneleigh-Burnham experience more accessible to local families."

Summer Program Coordinator Liz Vollinger added, "With both boarding and day options, Summer at Stoneleigh-Burnham is a great way to introduce girls to all that SBS has to offer."

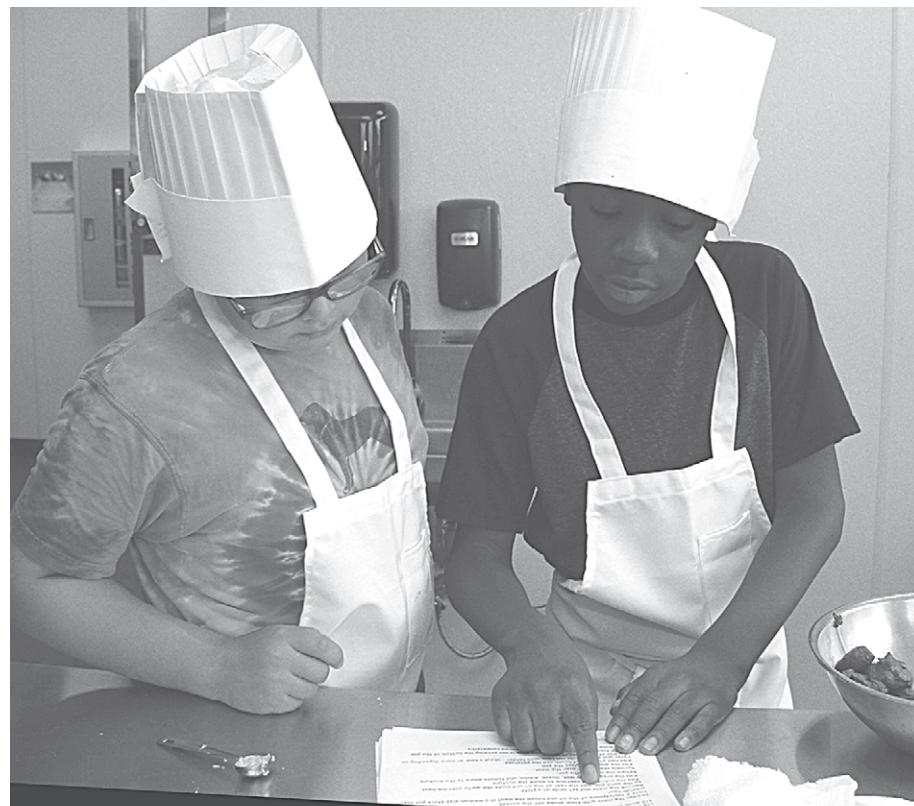

To learn more or to register, please visit sbschool.org/summer or contact Summer Program Coordinator Liz Vollinger at lvollinger@sbschool.org or by calling 413-774-2711 x272.

Now celebrating its 150th anniversary, Stoneleigh-Burnham School has been preparing girls grades 7-12 & PG for college and the world. Stoneleigh-Burnham is an academic community with an international perspective that inspires girls to pursue meaningful lives based on honor, respect, and intellectual curiosity. Each student is challenged to discover her best self and graduate with the confidence to think independently and act ethically, secure in the knowledge that her voice will be heard.

Knights hold on for quarterfinal win over Bombers

By Gregory A. Scibelli
gscibelli@turley.com

WESTFIELD — There were some nervous moments in the third quarter as Westfield roared its way back into the game, coming within three points, but the Knights pulled away late and secured a 69-63 win in the quarterfinals of the Western Massachusetts Division 1 tournament last Thursday night.

Holyoke would move on to lose to Central in the semi-finals earlier this week.

Holyoke reached tournament for the first time in a few years. The Knights went through a playoff drought following the graduation of its last 1,000-point scorer, Callie Cavanaugh.

Under new head coach Andrea Enright, and a powerful freshman in Bianca Ortiz, the Knights have been a much better team this year.

Holyoke would go 10-10 and received the No. 5 seed in the tournament.

At Westfield, Holyoke would lead the game early, and actually had a 20-point

Statewide tournament passes, will be implemented in 2021

By Gregory A. Scibelli
gscibelli@turley.com

As the Western Massachusetts basketball and hockey tournaments press on this week, a new tournament is now on the horizon.

Last Friday morning, the MIAA's membership voted in favor of holding a statewide tournament in all high school sports, and will do away with sectional tournaments beginning in fall 2021.

A special meeting of the MIAA and its board of directors was held last Friday morning at Assabet Valley Technical High School in Marlboro. Every member of the MIAA was allowed to send a representative to the meeting to vote on the proposal to hold a statewide tournament.

It was clear by opinions voiced leading up to the meeting that most of Western Massachusetts' was against the proposal. Most of the opinions were that a statewide tournament would more benefit the eastern part of the state.

But with the hurried rollout of the plan, concern of how MaxPreps would rank schools in the 32-team brackets, many more schools than expected voted now. However, majority ruled with a 193-140 vote.

"It's not the outcome I wanted," said Agawam High School Athletic Director David Stratton. "But now we move forward."

Stratton attended the meeting along with his building principal, Thomas Schnepf. Each member school, about 380 in the state, had the ability to vote. There were 333 votes cast in the decision.

With the vote passing, the Tigers get past Pacers in quarterfinals

By Tim Peterson
sports@turley.com

WEST SPRINGFIELD — Whenever a high school hockey player records a hat-trick, it's always very special, especially when it takes place in a postseason tournament game.

Junior Matt Brunelle accomplished that milestone for the fifth-seeded South Hadley Tigers, who defeated the fourth-seeded Chicopee Pacers, 5-2, in a Western Massachusetts Division 3A quarterfinal match before a large crowd at the Olympia Ice

See TIGERS, page 12

Bruins keep hot streak, defeat Thunderbirds

SPRINGFIELD – The Springfield Thunderbirds (30-26-2-0) could not pull away from the red-hot Providence Bruins, (33-18-3-3) who came from behind to take a 3-1 win on Saturday night before a sold-out MassMutual Center crowd of 6,793.

The winning team had scored at least four times in each of the first nine meetings between the clubs, but defense and goaltender would be the story of the first period in Springfield on Saturday. Dan Vladar was on his game in the opening period a week after allowing four goals on just 23 Thunderbird shots. The 22-year-old Bruin goalie stopped all 11 shots that came at him in the first, including a handful on a T-Birds power play.

At the other end, Philippe Desrosiers, who entered with 96 saves on his prior 102 save opportunities, matched the youngster shot-for-shot. None were bigger than Desrosiers' sprawling blocker hand save on Steven Kampfer on the near post with less than five seconds to go in the opening period to hold the game scoreless into the first intermission.

The tie made it all the way to the 9:32 mark of the second before the home side finally cracked the deadlock. Rodrigo Abols won a faceoff cleanly in the right circle back to Ethan Prow, who once again let a seeing-eye wrister get through traffic and past Vladar to make it a 1-0 lead for Springfield.

The lead would be short-lived, as just 2:11 later, operating on a man advantage, Peter Cehlarik found a soft spot in the slot area and lifted a perfect backhand shot under the crossbar to finally get one through Desrosiers and tie the game, 1-1, at 11:43.

Special teams would continue to be Springfield's undoing in the final period. In the midst of an 0-for-6 power play night, Jack Studnicka fired the gut punch with his seventh shorthanded goal of the season on a breakaway backhander at 9:11 of the final period to give Providence the only lead it would need, 2-1.

For good measure, the Bruins got defenseman Urho Vaakanainen into the offense, as Steen found him creeping up into the left circle for a one-timer past Desrosiers at 16:15 to round out the scoring. Desrosiers turned away 25 of 28 shots as he saw his three-start win streak come to an end, while Providence took home its seventh straight win behind 31 saves from Vladar.

The T-Birds and Bruins rematch again on Friday and Saturday in a home-and-home series in Providence on Friday and back in Springfield on Saturday at 7:05 p.m. for Pink in the Rink Night presented by Baystate Health to benefit the Rays of Hope Foundation.

Valley Wheel Over-30 Baseball looking for new players

The Valley Wheel Over-30 Baseball League is seeking new players for the upcoming 2020 season, which is set to begin near the end of April. The league is seeking players ages 28 and up. Players turning 28 this year are eligible. However, only players 30 and older can pitch. The league plays 15 regular season games with games being held mostly on Sundays with a couple of weekday games thrown in the mix as well as a special Mother's Day Saturday game in early May. The league is built on comradery, fair play, and having a good time with friends. If interested in trying out, go to www.valleywheelbaseball.com. The rules of the league and new player forms can be found on the site.

For further information, you can contact the league's commissioner, Jim Nason at wheel12@comcast.net or call him at (413) 433-4308. Tryouts will be taking place in the early weeks of April, weather permitting, with a draft following the tryouts.

Sign-ups ongoing for Quabbin Valley League

The Quabbin Valley Over-30 Baseball League is seeking new players for 2020 season. The league has six teams, several with open roster spots. Last year, the league voted to allow players age 28 and 29 to be able to join the league, though players under 30 are not eligible to pitch. The cost of the league this season is $192. For players new to the league, there will be a workout held in early April prior to the league's annual draft. Players will have an opportunity to showcase their skills before being selected to a team for the season. The season is 15 regular season games plus at least one playoff game. Games are nine innings and metal (BBCOR -3) or wood bats are allowed. Fields locations are throughout Western Mass.

For more information on the league, or if you are interested in registering, go to https://www.quabbinvalleybaseball.org/. The league is also in Facebook.

Center in West Springfield on Feb. 25.

"This is the first hat-trick of my high school hockey career and it feels very good," Brunelle said. "I scored one of my goals on a 2-on-1 play. I also scored a couple of goals on rebound shots. We just capitalized on their mistakes and we played very hard in tonight's game."

Brunelle finished the quarterfinal match with a total of four goals.

"We've been waiting for Matt to have a breakout game and it finally came tonight," said South Hadley head coach Larry Camus. "He also played very well in our last game as well."

Another milestone was achieved by South Hadley senior Mike Mazza, who reached 100 career points (goals and assists) with three assists.

"It was also a very special game for Mazza, who got his 100th career point," Brunelle added. "We've been playing together for the past three years and our chemistry has been getting better each year."

South Hadley and Chicopee are Fay Division rivals.

The Tigers (12-7-2) went 1-0-1 against the Pacers during the regular season. They posted a 7-1 win in the first meeting, which was held at Fitzpatrick Arena in Holyoke on Feb. 1. The second meeting, which took place 16 days later at Smead Arena in Springfield, ended in a 5-5 draw.

The Tigers also have a co-op with Granby High School. The six Granby players listed on the Tigers hockey roster

Chicopee, who doesn't co-op with another high school, finished their season with a 9-8-4 overall record.

The Pacers outshot the Tigers, 33-26, in the quarterfinal match.

"We did outshoot South Hadley in tonight's game, but we just couldn't outscore them," said longtime Chicopee head coach Al Styckiewicz. "One of our best defenseman was injured during the first five minutes of the game, which didn't help us very much."

The Pacers player, who was forced to leave the game with an injury, was senior Nolan Florence.

It was also the final high school hockey match for Chicopee seniors Samuel Fournier, Kendall Walsh, Dean Santos, Austin Scott, Alex Assab, and Evan Bailly.

"All of our seniors are great kids," Styckiewicz said. "We're going to miss them next year."

It didn't take the Pacers very long to take a 1-0 lead in the third meeting of the season against the Tigers.

Freshman Tyler Bielecki fired a shot into the net from the right circle past South Hadley goalie Anthony Cigal (31 saves) for an unassisted goal three minutes into the opening period.

Camus wasn't very concerned following the early goal.

"I wasn't really worried about the one goal deficit," Camus said. "Some of these guys have never played before in a tournament game. I just told them to settle down and let's stay with it."

The Tigers goalie made a total of 20 saves during the final two periods, which allowed his teammates the opportunity to make a comeback.

"They were all over us in the first period," Camus added. "I thought Anthony played great in the final two periods. He's been solid all year long."

With a little more than three minutes remaining in the first period, South Hadley sophomore Joe Meon sent a pass to Brunelle, who put a backhand shot into the net past Chicopee junior goalie David Shea (20 saves) tying the score.

The score remained tied until there was 30.8 seconds remaining in the second period.

That's when Brunelle knocked home a rebound shot giving his team the lead for the first time at 2-1.

The duo of sophomore Aidan Sullivan and Mazza were credited with the assists.

Brunelle made a little bit of history by scoring his third goal of the contest 1:08 into the final period. The assist by Mazza gave him 99 career points.

It also gave the Tigers a little bit of breathing room.

"The third goal was key," Camus said. "We told the players in the locker room between periods that whichever team scored the next goal would control the game."

Meon scored the Tigers fourth goal on a rebound shot, which was assisted by junior Ryan Tucker, at the 10:21 mark.

With 1:31 remaining in the quarterfinal match, Brunelle capped off his career game by scoring an empty net goal increasing the Tigers advantage to 5-1. Mazza, who joined the varsity team as a freshman, was credited with the assist, which gave him 100 career points.

The final goal of the match was scored by Chicopee junior Ethan Kapinos with 1:08 left on the scoreboard.

While Styckiewicz was saying goodbye to his players following the game, Camus was starting to think about his squad's semifinal match against top-seeded Greenfield four days later.

But Westfield turned it into a different gear later in the third quarter, scoring 28 points thanks to a few three pointers and just a few turnovers in a row that the Bombers were all able to convert on. Before long, it was just a three-point lead for the Knights, who almost saw their playoff hopes completely dashed.

But in the fourth quarter, Holyoke was able to turn it right back on. A pair of three pointers by Yamaya Perez really turned the game back in the other direction, stopping Westfield's momentum and building Holyoke's lead back into double digits.

The Knights also shot pretty well from the free throw line late, preventing Westfield from coming back. Both teams found themselves in foul trouble late in the game, with Westfield going over the limit late in the third quarter and Holyoke already in double bonus territory.

What made the biggest difference in the game overall was the play of Yamaya Perez, who just owned the hoop with a career-high 35 points. She had six total treys in the game and made nine free throws.

Ashley Vazquez also had an amazing contest with 18 points. She made seven free throws.

With the win over Westfield on the road, Holyoke moved on to a play in a semifinal for the first time in several years, facing Central at Western New England University of Monday evening. A story and photos from that game will be in next week's edition.

Webb tournament set to take place in March

CHICOPEE — This year marks the 35th year Kevin Vann has enjoyed coaching youth basketball—and for 16 of those years, he has provided young people in Greater Springfield and Northern Connecticut with the chance to play in a competitive tournament.

As the founder of the George Webb Memorial Basketball Tournament, which supports the Boys & Girls Club of Chicopee, Vann was proud to announce this year to sponsors and participants that the event topped the $200,000 fundraising mark in 2019.

“Thank you for standing with me over the past 16 years, supporting the kids of the club,” he said. “I have a deep passion for basketball, yet my 35 years of coaching pales in comparison to the 108 years that the Boys & Girls Club of Chicopee has been there every day for the now 358 boys and girls of this city. They are children who desperately need encouragement, companionship, challenge and opportunity to help them grow into responsible and respected human beings.”

The largest basketball tournament of its kind, the 15-day event tips off on March 13 at the club, ending on March 28. Each year, the tourney draws hundreds of spectators to watch more than 40 teams of boys and girls play.

Vann founded the George Webb Memorial Basketball Tournament in 2005 to honor his late friend, George Webb, who died of cancer at age 52 in 2004. A basketball player who shot hoops at the club on Tuesday evenings, Webb rarely lost a game, and, Vann said, “When he did, he showed true sportsmanship to whoever he was playing against.”

Vann and his business, The Vann Group of Springfield, a professional services outsourcing company, have sponsored the tournament since its start. And it has been held at the club it supports since the beginning as well.

“The George Webb Basketball Tournament embodies the values of the Boys & Girls Club of Chicopee,” Vann said. “It’s an even competition for teams of boys and girls aged 8 to 13 who have varying abilities as ball players.”

For the second year in a row, Daishany Miller of Chicopee was named the club’s Youth of the Year. To achieve the title of Youth of the Year, a club member must embody the values of leadership and service, academic excellence, and healthy lifestyles. The Youth of the Year serves as a role model for other young people in the club and as a representative to the community.

Drawn to investigate the club in 2014, Miller, 19, soon adopted it as a second home and learned how to thrive as a leader. “It takes strength to fit in and courage to stand out,” Miller said. “The club is there for me and encourages me to take the steps I need to strive to be a better version of myself.”

Vann said the tournament has allowed thousands of young people to experience the safe haven that is the Boys & Girls Club of Chicopee, play a sport and develop values that will last them a lifetime.

The club has a mission to fill the gap between school and home. According to a national organization called the Afterschool Alliance, every day, 362,312 children in Massachusetts leave school with nowhere to go with an adult present.

The club offers activities, resources, supportive relationships with peers and adults and programs that can be life-changing, and it served 1,802 young people last year; 358 were members, and the other 1,444 were served through community outreach programs.

The Boys & Girls Club of Chicopee has two locations in town and is staffed by 30 adults and 50 volunteers.

Seventy-one percent of those who are nurtured at the club are 12 and younger; the others are teenagers. Of the total served, 69 percent are in minority ethnic groups and 32 percent are in single-parent households.

For more information about the tournament, visit bgcchicopee.org/george-webb-memorial-basketball-tournament/. For information on sponsorship opportunities, visit georgewebbtournament.com or contact Ruth Griggs at (413) 727-3354 or email her at ruth@rccoms.com.

MIAA will begin preparations to hold statewide tournaments in the fall of 2021, starting with soccer, football, field hockey, and girls volleyball. Sectional tournaments will be held during the 2020-2021 season.

However, based on how the meeting went, the Tournament Management Committee, which created the proposal, will continue considering how to make the MaxPreps formula work. The formula was not shared with the membership, citing it being a proprietary formula. The MIAA membership did not have a vote in the implementation of MaxPreps. For Western Mass and some Central Mass. tournaments, MaxPreps will replace the Walker system, which was used due to the diversity of the Western Mass. region and so many teams playing in leagues with teams in multiple divisions.

During the course of the next year, the MIAA will expand many of its sports to five divisions statewide. With the exception of football, most mainstream sports like soccer, basketball, baseball, and softball, have four divisions. The idea of expanding to five divisions will allow more teams to make a 32-team field as well as hopefully level the competition.

During the meeting, a brief presentation of the statewide tournament was given. Athletic directors and administrators in attendance were then given an opportunity to speak or ask questions.

Many concerns were raised over the amount of travel that could take place. The extreme example utilized was a team having to go from Lee (far Western Mass.) to Nantucket (far Eastern Mass.).

Joe Gamache, representing Franklin Technical High School, said it would also be hard for parents to support their children with trips across the state like that.

His point was countered by Shaun

Hart from Burlington, a member of the TMC.

“In order for this tournament to be as bad as people want to make it out to be you have to hit the lottery of playoff magic to hit the farthest ride people have mentioned,” said Hart.

Alison Jordan-Ganger and William Metzger spoke from Western Mass. spoke.

Jordan-Ganger, vice principal and athletic director at Granby High School, said student representatives should have been more involved.

“They should have been here to speak their mind,” she said. “We missed the boat on this one.”

Metzger, principal of Monson High School, questioned how the state would approach splitting of fans if two teams had to play at far-away locations on the same day.

He was told the conflicts could be avoided with certain scheduling.

and Sanders at 26.7 percent, with 99 percent of precincts reporting as of Thursday.

The election was a disappointment for two Massachusetts politicians. U.S. Sen. Elizabeth Warren finished in third place both locally and statewide. Though she was within 5 percentage points of Sanders in the statewide results, she garnered only 1,092 votes in Holyoke, or 17.9 percent.

On the Republican side, former Massachusetts Gov. William Weld was blown out in his bid to wrest the nomination from incumbent President Donald Trump, taking 78 votes in Holyoke to Trump’s 604, or 10.7 percent to 82.5 percent. Statewide, he did even worse, polling at 9.3 percent to Trump’s 87.7 percent.

Trump is expected to win all 41 of Massachusetts’ pledged delegates to this summer’s Republican National Convention. The state’s pledged delegates to the Democratic National Convention are expected to go 32 to Biden, 27 to Sanders and 17 to Warren.

Massachusetts was part of a big win for Biden on “Super Tuesday,” as he won races across the South and in liberal northern states such as Massachusetts, Maine and Minnesota on March 3. Sanders, who had been the previous leader in the delegate count, won Colorado, Vermont and Utah, and had a wide lead in California, which was still counting votes on Thursday. Warren has yet to win a state.

Former New York Mayor Michael Bloomberg finished a distant fourth both in Holyoke and statewide, and dropped out of the race after disappointing nationwide results on Tuesday. He polled 680 votes, or 11.2 percent, in Holyoke.

Sanders was the top vote-getter in 12 of Holyoke’s 14 precincts, dropping to second place only in precincts 3B and 5A. He still took 28 percent of the vote in those two precincts. His best finish was 57.6 percent in Precinct 4B, and he took over half the vote in precincts 1A and 4A, as well.

Biden was the first-place finisher in the two precincts that Sanders did not win, but took just 35 and 37 percent of the vote in those two areas. His worst precincts were 1A and 4B, where he finished in third place with 12.9 percent and 15.2 percent of the vote, respectively.

Warren took second place where Biden struggled in precincts 1A and 4B, but her best results were in Ward 7, where she polled 22.5 percent in both precincts, despite finishing in third place. Her worst precinct was 5B, where she finished in fourth place, behind Bloomberg, with 11.9 percent of the vote.

Bloomberg finished fourth everywhere but Precinct 5B, where he took 13.2 percent of the vote. He almost reached 15 percent in Precinct 1B. His worst showing was 7.5 percent in Precinct 7B.

A third tier of Democratic candidates did about as well locally as they did statewide, finishing around 1 percent. Pete Buttigieg came in fifth with 70 votes in Holyoke; Deval Patrick and Amy Klobuchar tied for sixth with 45 votes each; Tulsi Gabbard was in eighth with 43 votes. Of this group, only Gabbard is running an active campaign. Both Buttigieg and Klobuchar had announced over the weekend that they were ending their runs and endorsing Biden. Patrick, a former Massachusetts governor, had dropped out of the race weeks ago.

The rest of the Democratic ballot consisted of candidates who also had suspended their campaigns. Michael Bennet led this group, with 25 votes in Holyoke, followed by 19 votes for “no preference,” 14 for Tom Steyer, 13 for Andrew Yang, 9 for John Delaney, 8 for Julian Castro, 3 for Cory Booker and 2 for Marianne Williamson.

Minor candidates receiving votes on the Republican ballot included 21 for Joe Walsh, 16 for “no preference” and 9 for Roque de la Fuente.

Sanders’ win in Holyoke contrasted with Chicopee, Springfield and most of the rest of Hampden County, which joined Boston and the Eastern Massachusetts majority in supporting Biden. It echoed, however, the results of some other urban communities like Chelsea, Lawrence, Lowell, Lynn, Medford, Salem, Revere and Worcester.

It also placed the city in line with the small towns of Hampshire and Franklin counties, which largely supported the Vermont senator. Northampton, however — like a few inner-ring suburbs of Boston — supported Warren.

Minor parties

Few Holyoke voters took Green-Rainbow or Libertarian party ballots. Vermin Supreme tied with “no preference” to win the Libertarian race, with 3 votes. Kenneth Armstrong, Dan Behrman, Jacob Hornberger and Jo Jorgensen received 2 votes each. Adam Kokesh and Kimberly Ruff got 1 vote apiece.

Delegate leaders Howard Hawkins and Dario Hunter split the Green vote, with 3 votes each. There were also single votes for Kent Mesplay, Sedinam Moyowasifza-Curry, a write-in, and “no preference.”

State senator

Voters were given two ballots in Tuesday’s election — the usual presidential primary and a special primary election for state senator. Holyoke is one of 11 cities this month choosing a successor for former state Sen. Donald Humason Jr., who stepped down in January to become mayor of Westfield.

Both major parties had one candidate running unopposed on their primary ballots. Democrats nominated John Velis, the current state representative from Westfield, to run for senator. Republicans nominated John Cain, a Southwick resident who owns a business in Agawam.

Cain and Velis will meet in a March 31 special election. The winner of that contest will serve the remaining months of Humason’s term, which expires at the end of 2020.

A wall of windows facing Holyoke Community College's parking lots and athletic fields let ample light into the main lounge at the renovated Campus Center.

2019 semester, as construction crews completed the finish work. The first floor now serves as a centralized home to the college's admissions, advising, career, transfer and testing departments. The second floor hosts new space for the college bookstore, which had previously occupied space in the basement. It's also home to the food court and student lounge, and offices and meeting rooms for student services.

"We love it," said Liz Golen, the college's student engagement coordinator. "We love it because of the light, the open floor plan, and the amount of space that is planned for" student groups.

The large, open lounge on the second floor is a key factor in the Campus Center's flexibility, Golen said. She has space she can use for classes, club meetings, video game tournaments and other small gatherings,

One of the features added in the renovation was a bridge over Tannery Brook, turning the Campus Center into a gateway from parking lots off Homestead Avenue to the campus courtyard.

Gov. Charlie Baker shakes hands with student Luis Pinto of Holyoke while touring El Centro, a new home for HCC's Multicultural Academic Services program in the renovated Campus Center.

New vertical walls of glass give the renovated Campus Center a more inviting atmosphere than the old, slanted exterior walls of concrete, which can be seen on the right side of this staircase leading from the campus courtyard.

and sections of the lounge can be configured for larger events such as film screenings, concerts and dance parties, in addition to its daily use as a cafeteria and gathering place.

HCC President Christina Royal said the second-floor lounge is "a dining room, living room, study room, play room and launching pad ... [which] provides students with a space to 'just be.'" She said spaces like this are important, as they inspire collaboration and community engagement. She called the informal gathering space the "heartbeat" of the college.

Evan Plotkin, one of the college's trustees, agreed.

"This space makes me want to be here," said Plotkin, who works in commercial real estate and property management. "You can see as you look around you the impact it has on the college. ... We are creating a physical environment that helps students feel proud. One that gets them excited to learn, and that keeps them coming back."

As the governor toured El Centro, the new centralized home for the college's Multicultural Academic Services program, coordinator Myriam Quinones and college trustee Lucy Perez told him that having a bright, inviting and expanded space will help their program and the students they serve.

Architects were able to bring more light into the building by encasing the old sloping, concrete walls with a vertical glass wall. This also added 9,000 square feet to the previously 57,000-square foot floor plan.

Brightening the space was not the only reason for the renovation, however. The construction work also addressed a persistent water leak in the basement, encasing the whole building in a water-tight seal. It also added a bridge over Tannery Brook and a new atrium connecting the Campus Center with visitor parking lots adjacent at the Homestead Avenue entrance.

"It's really a great gateway into the college, now," remarked state Rep. Aaron Vega, D-Holyoke, himself an HCC alumnus. "I've met constituents here. It's utilized by the community as well as the students and faculty."

Dogs have their day

Dusty won first place as the "fluffiest" contestant in the annual Dog Show hosted by the Holyoke Parks and Recreation Department on Feb. 22. Photos by Adrienne Johnson Dog show judges at the Feb. 22 event included Sarah Greenleaf, state urban forester; state Rep. Aaron Vega and his son Odin; and Susan Kelley, executive director of the Children's Museum at Holyoke.

Admission was free for spectators at the annual Dog Show, held in the gymnasium at Holyoke High School, North Campus.

Glacier was one of the dogs who entered the costume contest.

Participating dogs walked around the gym for one final lap with their owners at the conclusion of the Dog Show.

Charlie was another entry in the costume contest.
